Introduction

This tool was created for smaller institutional firms to expedite the request for proposal (RFP) process of selecting money managers. The aim is to standardize the questions so that it is easier for firms to prepare an RFP and simpler for money managers to respond.

About the Model RFP

- This model RFP outlines sample questions that cover the majority of information an investor may seek from money managers. It is intended as a guideline to be customized to meet a firm's unique needs.
- The essential characteristics of a money manager may not be easily conveyed in a standard entry on an RFP. We recommend that using the model RFP be only the first step in the money manager selection process.
- An investor is responsible for fully understanding the replies to the RFPs solicited. An outside adviser may be able to help the investor fulfill its fiduciary duty in this regard if the firm itself lacks the expertise.
- We have created three versions of this model RFP to meet the varying needs of professionals in the equity, fixed-income, and real estate markets.

About the Authors

This model RFP was developed by the CFA Institute Centre for Financial Market Integrity in collaboration with the Investment Adviser Association, Investment Management Consultants Association, and the Institute for Private Investors.

The CFA Institute Centre is the research, policy, and advocacy division of CFA Institute. With 96,000 members in 134 countries and territories, CFA Institute is the global, not-for-profit professional association that administers the Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) and Certificate in Investment Performance Measurement (CIPM) curriculum and examination programs worldwide, publishes research, conducts professional development programs, and sets voluntary, ethics-based professional and performance-reporting standards for the investment industry. More information can be found at www.cfainstitute.org.

The Investment Adviser Association (IAA) is a not-for-profit organization that exclusively represents the interests of U.S. SEC-registered investment advisory firms. Founded in 1937, its current membership consists of more than 500 firms that collectively manage in excess of US$9 trillion in assets for a wide variety of individual and institutional investors. For more information, please visit www.investmentadviser.org.

Investment Management Consultants Association (IMCA) was established in 1985 to deliver the premier investment consulting and wealth management credentials and world-class educational offerings. Through membership, conferences, certificate programs, publications, and designations, IMCA provides advisers and consultants with the knowledge, tools, and resources required to best serve their clients. The cornerstone of IMCA is the Certified Investment Management Analyst™ (CIMA®) designation. IMCA also delivers the Chartered Private Wealth Advisor™ (CPWA™) designation. To learn more about IMCA membership and educational opportunities, please visit www.IMCA.org.

Founded in 1991, the Institute for Private Investors (IPI) is a private membership organization with the mission to improve how investors work with advisers and how advisers work with investors, for the benefit of both. IPI ensures a safe harbor for investor education and the confidential exchange of information. Because IPI does not endorse any investment services, strategies, or managers, program content is academic. Events are held globally and also in collaboration with the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania and with Stanford University. Membership dues and educational fees are the sole source of revenue. Please visit www.memberlink.net for more details.
